

Tesito House, Manchester

On yet another occasion when WPL got very excited with daring architectural ideas at the Manchester Independent Hospital now called Tesito House, where this stunning array of vertical and horizontal Brise Soleil over the foyer, puts a smile on the faces of its visitors.

The multicoloured array of 100 millimetre aerofoil sections and a vertical aluminium structure is a visual delight but just as important is that the design reduces solar gains into the reception area.

